

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

VlamiS Software Solutions Celebrates 25 Years

Liberty, Missouri

VlamiS Software Solutions has called Liberty, Missouri home since Dan VlamiS established the company in 1992. "Twenty-Five years is a long time in the IT consulting business," says Dan VlamiS, President and founder of VlamiS Software Solutions. "I am proud and humbled by what we have done for our clients."

VlamiS Software Solutions is a boutique consultancy specializing in developing and improving business analytics implementations in America's largest corporations and organizations. Business analytics is "a visual way for companies to know where they stand" says Carolyn Gillespie, Office Manager at VlamiS Software Solutions. "We do a lot of what is often called 'data science' work with very large Enterprise software, hardware, and cloud-based systems" says Tim VlamiS, Vice President and Analytics Strategist at VlamiS Software Solutions. Working across many different industries, VlamiS Software Solutions has helped decision makers and business analysts make the most informed conclusions based on the data that their companies collect.

After graduating from Brown University, Dan worked for Information Resources, Inc. (IRI) where he developed his skills as a software developer and implementer of what we could today call business analytics systems. In January of 1992 Dan left IRI and moved to Kansas City to be closer to his family. During the transition, he accepted a three-week consulting assignment in Australia. Dan soon found out that many other companies were interested in those same skills. In April of 1992 Dan filed the necessary paperwork with the State of Missouri and formed VlamiS Software Solutions.

In the past 25 years Dan and his team at VlamiS Software Solutions have led hundreds of business analytics implementations for a diverse set of clients, including many Fortune 500 companies. Services provided have expanded to include training, custom code development, installation and configuration of Oracle software, and mentoring programs. "We understand that some companies just want someone to come in and do the whole project and we're happy to do that. On the other hand, some companies take a different approach and bring their staff up to speed on the technology. We can show them on their own system how to do some really cool stuff and help develop the staff at the same time" says Doug Schieder, Associate at VlamiS Software Solutions.

VlamiS Software Solutions employs multiple Oracle experts across the country and has built strong relationships with Oracle product management. Dan VlamiS has earned the title of Oracle ACE Director with Oracle, while Tim VlamiS is an Oracle ACE. The two brothers co-authored the Oracle Press book, Data Visualization for Oracle Business Intelligence 11g. VlamiS Software Solutions has given hundreds of technical presentations or papers at Oracle-based user conferences and Dan VlamiS has served on the Board of Directors for the Oracle BIWA SIG since 2008. Companies that have co-presented with VlamiS Software Solutions at recent conferences include: Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Beckman Coulter, AMC Theatres, Pioneer Balloon Company, and others.
